Herald Presents
New Column,
New Type Face

The Cameron Herald today steps out with two additions to its growing list of features and services.

Robert Mann, youthful Herald sports editor, begins this week expressing his "View on Sports" in a column of the same name.

And The Herald takes on a new face in its news story display display heads with the addition of Stylistic family of display types.

YHS freshman Mann joins the Herald gallery of sports feature writers that includes versatile Tom Murray on Southwest conference sports and the hunting and fishing lore of "Outdoors In Texas."

The new type faces succeed the Caslon display types which have heads with the addition of the paper display headlines for a number of years. That family of type will serve uses in the advertising columns.

Young Robert Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mann, has been writing sports news for The Herald for about nine months.

Other Herald feature columns include the venerable "Little River Philosopher," Texas Press Association's "Capital Report" and "Column 99."

The Herald now has six columnists, including County Agent J. D. Moore's weekly agriculture survey.

Board To Weigh Roadways Needs

Cameron's proposed street program nears a starting point next Tuesday when the City Council will hold a special meeting to map out plans along lines recommended by the City Planning Commission.

The Council Tuesday night will work out details on paving North Jackson and East Sixth St., in line with proposed planning and will consider candidates for city public works superintendent to succeed W. D. Bigbee.

In a regular council meeting Tuesday night, the Council heard a report from Councilmen Sam Houston and Roy Griffith, acting public works heads, on grading in process on E. 10th St. and North Jackson.

Workmen have graded the two streets in preparation for paving when final plans are made.

City Atty Jack Prescott said that one out-of-town property owner having a 300-front lot on E. 10th St. awaited a final estimate on cost of paving the street across the front of his lot, then would agree to sharing in the cost with other property owners on E. 10th St.

Residents along 10th Street from Ben Milam school east to Jackson have petitioned for paving and curbing, Prescott said, and practically all liens are completed except those pending on the approval of the out-of-town property owner.

Council heard a petition from property owners along South Lamar and E. Ninth Sts. asking for a pea gravel and oil topping on about three blocks of those two streets.

No. Two—Rework and resurface N. Crockett St. from Fourth and Crockett to Crockett and W. 12th Sts., and W. 12th St. from corner of North Travis and 12th to North Austin.

No. Three—Rework and resurface S. Nolan Ave. from W. Main St. to W. Batte St.

No. Four—Rework and resurface S. Karnes Ave. from W. Batte St. to US 190.

No. Five—Rework and resurface W. Main St. from Orchard St. to Columbus Ave.

No. Six—Rework and resurface North Fannin from E. 12th St. to the North City limits.

Show Plan Nears Completion Here

Chamber President Hilliard Thomas reminded countians today that the Chamber-sponsored Junior Livestock Show will include a Trades Show of farm equipment, feed and new autos.

The February 7 show is expected to attract about 100 cattle entries from around Milam County, Thomas said.

Tying in with the enlarged affair scheduled for the Mall around the Milam County Courthouse will be Double Dollar Days Friday and Saturday, February 6-7, with Cameron merchants offering specials throughout their stores.

John S. Batte, livestock committee chairman, said that show judging will be divided into three categories: beef, dairy and swine. Cash awards totaling $500 will be given plus place ribbons.

"The addition of a showing of new cars, farm equipment and feed wares will widen the interest and scope of the livestock show," Thomas said.

Moseley said that all of the streets on the west and south sides of the courthouse and the entire street to the east will be closed to traffic and utilized for display purposes and showing of stock.

Vehicle and farm displays will be on the Mall both Feb. 6 and 7, while Double Dollar Days continue to feature savings of all types for county shoppers and visitors.

"This triple-deck affair will show countians that Cameron appreciates their business and that their interests are those of Cameron," Moseley said.

The livestock show February 7 will be held in Fannin Street, east of the courthouse.

Council Names Election Heads, Okays Payment

The City Council Tuesday night selected election officials for April 7 city election and approved final payment for the Gillis St. and Terrell Heights Sewerline projects.

Councilmen named Dan Gunn election judge and Mrs. B. L. Miller and B. J. Matocha assistants.

The election will consider three council posts now held by Hayden Lawrence, Richard Moseley and Lincoln Mondrik.

A final $5,000 payment was made for the combination sewerline projects recently completed by the contractor. Alvin Heft told councilmen the projects checked out and would serve 31 additional homes in Cameron.

In other action, the Council awarded a one-year lease to Woodum Auto Sales, R. J. Woodum, for a high bid of $752.50 for the west half of the City Park on E. Fourth St. It will be used for a used car lot. Second bid of $650 was submitted by Culppeper Motor Co.

The Council called for moving of the park lights and backstop to the Negro Park. Budgeted funds are available to make the move, Mayor Bassel Wilson said.

Also approved were bills for $957.60 for 15-inch water pipe to be replaced at O. J. Thomas School, $154.29 for repairs to the city garbage truck and $32 attorney's fees for city lien work for the E. 10th St. project.

The Council okayed also a move that would allow Grady Houston to pay back taxes by painting and repairing the park pavilion and benches on the north side of US 77.

Councilmen discussed, but tabled action on allowing tax payers to pay city taxes in thirds. Ninety per cent of current city taxes have been paid, according to City Sec. John Andres.

Four Cub Scouts troop packs have taught me some things I didn't know about the newspaper production business. And all they had to do was make an appearance.

Here's what happened: It was newspaper week in Cub Scouting last week. All four Cub Scout packs wished to tour the offices and production departments of The Herald. Gladly we led them through the shop.

Wishing to anticipate their questions and our answers (?) about the intricacies of newspaper production, we tried to analyze the best way to explain this business.

By so doing, we came up with data and explanations about The Herald's presses and processes that were less familiar than than they are now.

The upshot of the thing was a pleasant experience for me and, I hope, an interesting insight into the complications of hot lead, cold type and typographical errors.

The door stands open to any group of youngsters or oldsters, too, who wish to see what makes a newspaper tick. All we need is notice.

A sign in a local business this week caught my eye. It had printed on it a number of axioms or words of wisdom credited to Abraham Lincoln.

"The Wisdom of Honest Abe" is the way the sign is entitled, and most of the sayings have to do with the "Cannots" which discourage the development of leaders, men of character and outstanding people in general.

Three of the 11 bits of advice, though stated in a negative sense, never rang truer than they do today.

With American initiative threatened on every hand by "the gimmies," it is well that we recall some of the words of wisdom of great men.

THESE I LIKE:

"You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence."

"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."

"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

Chamber Boosts Program To Halt Rat Invasions

The Cameron Chamber's health and sanitation committee is sponsoring a rat eradication program set to get underway Monday, February 9, according to Manager Richard Moseley.

The Chamber will work in conjunction with the US Dept. of Interior Fish and Wildlife Service and Milam Health Dept. in making a complete inspection of business houses in the downtown area.

Moseley said the Chamber will pay for the cost of poison and paper plate containers in downtown Cameron.

Dave Wimberly, county sanitarian for the Milam Health Dept. and C. J. Stevens, representing the Fish and Wildlife Service, will inspect the buildings.

Rat poison will be made available at cost for residents of Cameron who wish to use it to destroy rats around their homes. Moseley said it will cost 20 cents per pound and may be obtained at the Chamber office.

Dr. Sidney Richardson, chairman of the health and sanitation committee, said that the increase of rat population in Cameron poses a serious health problem.

He emphasized the destructiveness of rats and the need to curb the loss of property caused by rats.

In the downtown area, Moseley continued, inspector will place the rat poison with the building owners permission.

22 County Men Register With Local Board

The following men registered with the local draft board during the month of December: Floyd P. McCoy, Jimmie V. Garcia, Carroll L. Modesette, Phillip S. Swearing, Calvin T. Estepp, R. Ervin Luckey, Jr., Percy B. Phenix, Wayman L. Keen, Nicasio R. Zapata, Jerry W. Kirk, Billy W. McBride, Jesse T. Kirk, Jesus V. Ramirez, Billy J. Martin, Delphyn J. Meeks, Leroy Guillote, Jr., Ed Sinn, Wilburn M. McInvale, Melvin E. Knight, Charles L. Kirk, Turner N. Newton and Cornado G. Rubio.

Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, reminded draft-liable men that it is their duty under the law to inform themselves as to the proper time to register. The law requires that a man register on his 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter. If a young man joins the regular services for full-time duty before he is 18, he does not have to register when he reaches 18 if he is still in service. However, when he is separated from the service, the law requires that he go to a draft board and register within 30 days. Board officials reminded that there will be no pre-induction mental and physical examinations in January as a result of the drop in the monthly quota.

Your Cameron lumber businesses can save YOU from

on roofing and siding jobs comparable to the work this company promises to complete.

IF YOUR CRERIT IS GOOD. . .

YOU can get easy down payments and pay out plan through local financing. There is no need to be high pressured into signing a contract with an out-of-town firm and pay them much more for work you can have done in Cameron for a better price by Camreon people.

AN EXAMPLE:

Some local homeowners have contracted to have this out-of-town concern do their insulation siding and roofing for $45 to as high as $60 per square. A local lumber company and local workers can do the same work for about $30 per square. Figure your own savings: The average houses in Cameron requires 14 squares of insulation siding. Smart looking? You bet! And comfortable, too!

Sure, styling is important in a new car. You expect a new car to be sleek and smart—but not at the expense of comfort. Yet in trying to design a car as low and modern looking as the Swept-Wing Dodge, some '59 cars have practically designed out the people. Not Dodge. It's designed around you. It's easier to get into (no protruding door posts), easier to get out of (no high door sills to trip over), more comfortable to sit in (there's room to spare). All this and Swivel Seats, too!

MRS. JOSEPH THOMAS ESTES

Knipp-Estes Vows Recited Saturday

The First Presbyterian Church, Cameron, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Ann Knipp and Mr. Joseph Thomas Estes Saturday evening at 5:30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Knipp of Cameron and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Estes of Dallas.

The Rev. John C. Solomon of Houston performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with white mums and candelabra. Mrs. Hilliard Thomas, organist, furnished traditional wedding music and Mrs. Calvin Spillman of Pasadena, soloist, sang "Because."

Silk and Lace Gown

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional wedding gown of pure silk and lace. Tiny satin bows enhanced the fitted bodice which featured a sweetheart neckline. The lace overskirt, with a ruffled petticoat of net, was an original design outlined with seed pearls and sequins that swept into a peacock train.

Her finger-tip veil and crown were outlined with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature orchids centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Anita Schofield, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Faye Angell of Austin and Miss Lerlene McCollum of LaPorte.

Attendants in Pink Lace

F. F. Estes of Dallas served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were L. O. Bruun of Eules and William A. Knipp of Cameron, twin brother of the bride. Ushers were Wallace Colburn of Austin and Littleton Barrett of Cameron.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 1400 N. Jackson. Guests were welcomed by the bride's brother, William A. Knipp. The bride's table, covered with a pastel pink nylon tulle and taffeta cloth, held the four-tiered pastel pink wedding cake and silver punch bowl at opposite ends of the table. The centerpiece was a memory candle in a hurricane shade centered in a circle of mums. Mrs. Dewey McElwath was in charge of reception arrangements.

Miss Sharon Carroll of Arlington served the wedding cake and Mrs. Jimmie Rae Hendee assisted at the silver punch service. Mrs. E. V. Blissard of Houston, sister of the bride, registered the guests.

For a short wedding trip the bride chose a light gray suit with blue and black accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Yoe High School and Durham's Business College and before her marriage was employed as secretary to the Milam County judge. The groom is a graduate of the Southwest School of Printing at Sam Houston State Teachers College and is presently employed with the Bennett Printing Co. in Dallas. Square Dancing Is Popular Event

"Swing your partner and do-si-do" is a familiar call at the Methodist Church recreation building on Friday night from January through June.

Friday night square dancing has attracted larger crowds of fourth graders through high school each year with a record number, 150, attending this years opening dance.

Mrs. Dana Monroe seeing the need for more activities for Cameron young people organized the Friday night square dancing 3 years ago. The lessons started on a small scale in the garage of the Monroe home and later the program was adopted as a youth project by the Methodist Church with Mrs. Monroe as director.

Last year the group grew so large that two sessions were needed. Fourth and fifth graders meet from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. and sixth graders and up take over from 7:45 until about 9:30 p.m.

One of the most outstanding features of the square dancing is Mark Towery, professional caller from Salty who has worked with the young people each week. Mr. Towery is expert at teaching new dances with a minimum of confusion and fun for all, and he is ready each Friday to call some of the old favorites.

In addition to the square dancing their is time for couple dancing and ring plays to provide variety.

No admission is charged and parents divide the responsibility of providing soft drinks and extra helpers. Mrs. Monroe especially praised Mrs. Charles C. Smith Jr. for her continued assistance during the past 3 years.

Mrs. Monroe also pointed out that the Friday dances were open to all young people in the fourth grade and over. She stated that the larger crowds were a little hard to handle in the old facilities, but that there is room for every one in the new Methodist recreation hall.

Evergreen trees and candelabra holding lighted tapers flanked by two large arrangements of crysanthemums, snap-dragons and gladiolus decorated the church for the double ring ceremony.

The Rev. Judson M. Cook assisted by the Rev. Hugh Dozier officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown in silk peau-de-soie and chantilly lace. The molded bodice of lace featured a V-shape neckline encrusted with irridescent and seed pearls. The long snug fitting lace sleeves came to calla points over the hands. Her full skirt of peau-de-soie was scattered with jewel trimmed appliques of lace. A double panel of lace over peau-de-soie extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a Mary Queen of Scots cap of lace outlined with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis, lily of the valley and carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Faye Denson, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Judy Williams, Miss Carole Culpepper and Mrs. Stewart Perkins, sister to the groom from Cameron. Attendants were gowned in emerald green taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of red carnations with white leather leaf fern and silver ribbons.

Flower girl was Anita Fay Dorse and ring bearer was Leonard Ellerbe, both cousins of the bride. Stewart Perkins, sister of the groom as best man and ushers were Robert Finley, Clyde Dodson and Earle Denson.

The brides parents were hosts for a reception immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors.

Internal Revenue Service Agent Urges Early Filing Of Tax Returns

Every citizen of the United States who had a gross income of $600 or more in 1958, including minors, must file a Federal income tax return on or before April 15, 1959, A. P. Andrews, Administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service for Temple said today.

If the taxpayer is 65 or over by January 1, 1959, he is not required to file unless his gross income was at least $1,200.

He added even though a taxpayer is not required to file under these rules, he must file to obtain a refund of any tax withheld from his salary or wages.

There is one exception to the general rule. Self-employed persons must file an income tax return and pay a self-employment tax if net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more.

He explained that self-employed persons are those carrying on a trade or business as sole proprietors, as members of a partnership or rendering services as independent contractors.

He added checks or money orders for any tax due should accompany the return and should be made payable to the "Internal Revenue Service."

THE NEWSPAPER

... all things to all men ... and by all taken for granted!

PICTURE CAMERON WITHOUT A NEWSPAPER

Downright compulsive, isn't it, this consuming curiosity about what's going on around town?

But try to picture your town without a newspaper!

Dimly, you recall something that Thomas Jefferson once said: "Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter."

Nonsense! That was long ago. It's different now. This is the electronic age. What with split stocks and split second jet-away-of-living, we now have all sorts of checker-uppers on our civic goings-on.

But have we? Let's take inventory. Whatever wonders and wizardries communication offers today, one thing remains the same: the heart of the free press is still the good reporter. And the good newspaper — its printed words documenting human happenings — is still the initial instrument in the protection of rights and liberties throughout the land.

The fact is plain. And it's reiterated in the record: Almost every day some American newspaper — ranging in size from the mighty metropolitan daily to the small town weekly — is acclaimed for its constructive efforts in helping to build a better community ... or for its vigilance in searching out and snuffing out corruption, tyranny and injustice.

In this service, traditionally — yes, and imitatively — the newspaper is still supreme.

So, if you will, keep on taking your free press for granted. But — if you value your freedom — don't let anything or anybody take your newspaper away from you.

THE MIKOYAN RAZZLE....

Everybody's "friend," Anastas Mikoyan, No. 2 Soviet bludgeonwielder, has been charming the hinterlands of these United States and luring American business into dreams of U. S. - Soviet companionship.

His visits with U. S. officialdom netted the usual stalemate in talks about Berlin, freedom and the many topics that make for differences between the world's powers.

Yet, he apparently bypassed Washington and State Department savoir faire in going directly to the American people on an almost unprecedented tour of this nation.

Among his hosts were the major powers in American industry who, no doubt, were being tested for their reaction to Russian offers of trade between the Soviet and American spheres.

Some key men indicated interest in the possibilities of trading with the Soviet bloc.

Back in Washington, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles negated any Mikoyan proposal for a free Berlin, point of the Russian deputy premier's trip to the capital.

But elsewhere the reception has been more amenable to Mikoyan's visits, exactly what he sought before approaching the Berlin peace talks.

It is difficult for Americans to imagine the single-mindedness of purpose of the pure Communist. Far from queasy fellow travelers, Master Mikoyan and company, bolstered by Khrushchev's dictatorial strength, would tack a course for a lifetime, just to make a point or a plunder.

Mikoyan himself chuckles at Americans' inability to get excited about our government and its leadership status in the world. While in Russia, the play-for-keeps, Soviets either cram or get crammed with their atheistic dogma of share-the-road-to-World-Communism.

Aside from their enforced interest in government, the Russian people are screaming for consumer goods instead of five-year plans.

That is one thing Mikoyan chooses to overlook. In fact it is a motivating factor in his appeal to American business for international trade with Russia.

His appeal to American technology for exchange of goods is an admission that Khrushchev's agriculture and industrial plans leave no room for consumer production. And that appeal shows the merits of free enterprise over a dictatorial welfare state.

It would appear that Berlin, a capitalistic crease in Khrushchev Communism, will remain a divided and protected city, much to Soviet dismay.

But with some American business leaders looking to the vast consumer markets in Russia, we are prone to wonder: Do we need the business that bad?

Claims Tractors Don't Cost Weight
In Gold, But They're Working On It

Dear editor:
I was figuring up my income and expenses for 1958 the other night and trying to remember where my money went when I decided to rest my mind and picked up a newspaper a man had handed me in town earlier in the day to keep the rain off while I crossed a street—it was a copy of The Dallas Morning News and I don't care what some people say about it, it shed the rain pretty good—and got to reading a review of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

I have come to the conclusion that the President's speech writers ought to bring their language up to date.

For example, trying to bring home to the people the high cost of defending America, the President said "new bombers now cost their weight in gold."

This is what I'm talking about. It would have brought the message home a lot stronger if he'd said "new bombers cost their weight in groceries."

When he said fighter planes "now cost fifty times more than they did fifteen years ago," he would have brought us face to face with reality more if he'd said "fighter planes have gone up even higher than new automobiles."

Or if he'd said "it costs more to train a jet pilot than it does to send a kid to college."

I have a great deal of sympathy though for the President. He and I are working on similar problems.

For example, while new bombers don't cost their weight in gold yet, I think they're working on it.

I don't know what it costs to repair a 2-million-dollar bomber, but what it costs to overhaul a 10-year-old tractor is inching up in the same direction.

I don't know what a guided missile costs, but I know what a box of shotgun shells costs, and it's something to make Congress and me both sit up and do some thinking.

I don't think groceries cost their weight in gold yet, but it may not be long before they'll be saying gold costs its weight in groceries.

I don't know what it costs to keep our defense program really healthy, but I know what it costs to restore a man to health, especially if he has to go to the hospital for any length of time. It's enough to put him back in the hospital.

Everything costs a lot more these days, everything, that is, except some of the things I produce out here, and if it was left to me, they'd be higher too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Galleries Jammed For Speaker Vote

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Some cheered and some wept, but none will soon forget the eventful, suspenseful opening day of the House of Representatives of the 56th Legislature. Waggoner Carr became the third man in recent history to win a second term as Speaker of the House; and Joe Burkett became the only one in many years to lose by so close a vote—97-71.

Burkett and Carr had been in a hard-fought contest for a year and a half. Burkett, from Kerrville in the Hill country, is a staunch conservative. Carr, from Lubbock in the South Plains, had more liberal support.

When the day came, every representative was present, and the floor and galleries were jammed with spectators. Secretary of State Zolite Steakley served as temporary presiding officer. An elaborate voting procedure was agreed upon to safeguard secrecy and assure fairness.

Representatives filed to the front of the chamber, one by one, had their folded ballots initiated by the clerk and then placed them personally in the ballot box. Six watchers, three representing each candidate, stood by.

The ballot box was opened and results called out, one by one. Only sound in the large chamber was the scratching of the pens of many score keepers, and the occasional fidgeting or gasping as the lead see-sawed between the candidates.

A cheer went up as Carr received his victory-assuring 76th vote. A round of hand shaking, back slapping and congratulating began. Following the final count, a procession composed of Carr's family and supporters escorted the Lubbock representative to the rostrum to take the oath of office.

ON WITH THE SHOW

After the opening dust had settled, Legislators turned to their everyday concerns.

Most immediate and pressing problem was finding money to operate the Legislature. Since the state's main monetary cupboard, the general revenue fund, was bare (worse still, in debt), there wasn't so much as a nickel on hand to pay salaries of the lawmakers and their helpers, nor even for stamps, stationery, phone calls and travel. A bill was offered to appropriate $2,300,000 that had accumulated in two special funds.

Several plans were being talked about to solve the even more vexatious long-term problem of overall budget balancing. To do so will involve finding money to pay off an expected general fund deficit of $65,000,000 plus some $130,000,000 in new money to meet expected expenses for 1960-61. Only alternative would be numerous and painful economies.

Generally, there seem to be two schools of thought developing on taxation: (1) those who hope to avoid a new tax by juggling many present levies, such as selective sales taxes, removing several exemptions and re-shuffling funds here and there and (2) those who say the present tax blanket can't be stretched any further and that "pot shot, patch work" taxation should be replaced by an over-all plan to distribute the increasing cost of government among more people.

PANORAMA

Other items for the record of what promises to be an historic Legislature:

SENATOR GEORGE P. PARK
HOUSE of Dallas is new president pro tempore of the Senate, and as such, third in line to the governor. An outdoor advertising executive, Parkhouse is beginning his third Senate term.

NO FREE OVERTIME, resolved Senators in one of their first official acts, a resolution to quit on the dot May 12 when the 120-day pay period runs out. House members cheered the announcement.

A FAMOUS NAME returned to public life as Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin took the oath as senator. Former Congressman Martin Dies Sr., long identified with the Dies Un-American Activities Investigating Committee, came to see his son sworn in.

"BABY OF THE HOUSE" is Rep. Jack Connell Jr. of Wichita Falls, youngest person ever to sit in the House. Connell was 21 years old plus 14 days on general election day.

A FOOTBALL STAR when he's not a lawmaker is Yale Lary, freshman representative from Fort Worth. Lary, a defensive back for the Detroit Lions pro team, was a college star for Texas A&M.

ONE GOVERNOR'S SON succeeded another as W. P. Hobby Jr. was named parliamentarian of the Senate, a post held last session by Dan Moody Jr.

AN EARLY CRISIS was averted when the House sergeant-at-arms rushed a spittoon to the desk of snuff-dipping Rep. Jerry Sadler of accessory, had gotten lost in the chamber's revamping.

FOLKS WITH MONEY SPENDING IDEAS had best be armed with money-finding ideas when they come to the Legislature this year. This warning was issued by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria in an Austin address.

THIRD HOUSE has its own ceremonies this year as, for the first time, lobbyists are required to register under the new law. From the length and variety of the list, there's a lobbyist for practically everything and everybody—Teachers, farmers, firemen, policemen, labor unions, industries and even church groups.

Cameron Auction Awarded Nat'l Certified Status

Receiving an appropriate certificate this week denoting it a "Nationally Certified Livestock Auction Market" was Cameron Livestock Auction.

"Nationally Certified" designation is awarded qualifying livestock auction markets by the National Association of Livestock Auction Markets on the basis of their operations and services conducted according to the national code of business standards. The code is the industry's own standards of market services and operations as public livestock markets.

The certificate as issued carries the name of the market and a certification by the chairman of the Association's Livestock Market Council that the market has been found to meet the standards set forth in 17 operating principles condensed from the code. It is also signed by the market owner. As such it constitutes a mutual pledge to the livestock public, consignors and buyers alike, of continuing high standards of market services and responsibility.

Upward Trend For Aluminum Seen

PITTSBURGH, PA.—President Frank L. Magee of Aluminum Company of America today predicted that the upward trend of aluminum consumption since the 1958 first quarter low will continue in 1959, and that shipments to consumers next year will exceed 1958 totals by better than 10 per cent.

Mr. Magee's year-end statement asserts that during 1958 the company and the industry as a whole were encouraged by the apparent increase in use of aluminum per unit of durable goods produced. Growing applications for the metal in such fields as passenger automobiles and building construction offset to some degree the sharply reduced output of many aluminum-consuming durables during the 1957-58 recession.

USE IN AUTOS
Final surveys indicated that average use of aluminum in 1958 passenger cars reached approximately 50 pounds, an increase of nearly 25 per cent over 1957. Aluminum found its way into an increasing number of functional parts such as the front wheel brake drums on the 1958 Buick, and continued to be used for still more trim and decorative parts. In 1959 use of aluminum in the average passenger car will again register a substantial gain.

In the building field, National Homes Corporation announced that its aluminum-clad "Viking Line" homes will be available in three 1959. Designed in cooperation with Alcoa, these moderately priced homes will be available in three models which use from 1,400 to 3,000 pounds of aluminum. Usage of aluminum in the average new home built today is less than 100 pounds.

Electrical Fields
Aluminum made important inroads in the electrical field during 1958. Attractively-priced Alcoa aluminum magnet wire became available for such devices as motors, solenoids and generators. Growing numbers of manufacturers of electromagnetic devices also began using aluminum strip windings for transformers and miscellaneous electrical equipment. In an effort to speed the development of insulated coatings and winding techniques for the production of electrical coils from aluminum strip and foil, Alcoa purchased the facilities of the Transformer Division of Automation Instruments, Inc., and installed thereat the Alcoa Research Laboratories.

Alcoa's 1958 research and development budget was 14 per cent higher than actual expenditures in 1957, as the company accelerated its efforts to stimulate new and broader applications for aluminum in all market areas. Included among a number of significant achievements to Alcoa research and development during 1958 were: a new aluminum sheet alloy with a bright finish for automotive trim; a new high strength aluminum sand casting alloy; a new aluminum die cast bearing alloy; a new high-strength alloy for truck bodies; a lower priced sheet for porcelain enameling; and the first re-sealable aluminum closures for canned infants' foods.

Alcoa's capital expenditures in

Alcoa Production To Increase At Point Comfort

POINT COMFORT—The first shipments of bauxite—the ore from which aluminum is made—began arriving by barge last week at Aluminum Company of America's Point Comfort alumina refining plant.

The bauxite was transferred from the ore carrier Avery C. Adams to barges at the Company's temporary transfer station near the deep water channel at Port Aransas. The ore was then barged 70 miles through the intracoastal canal and Matagorda Bay to Alcoa's newest and largest alumina refining plant at Point Comfort. The alumina plant is scheduled to begin processing this bauxite on February 2.

The Adams, a 22,000 ton ore carrier leased by Alcoa Steamship Company, arrived at Port Aransas loaded with bauxite from Suriname, South America. Shipments from new Alcoa mining operations in the Dominican Republic will begin later this month.

To man the start-up of alumina operations Alcoa is recalling approximately 150 employees laid off when the company's smelting operations were reduced several months ago.

When in full operation, the new alumina refining plant will provide jobs for more than 600 people. The operation's ultimate cost will be $45-million, and the plant is so designed as to make possible a future doubling of its capacity.

1958 were in the vicinity of $25 million, as the company continued to modernize and expand its facilities where necessary to meet anticipated market requirements.

ROCKDALE WORKS was the safest of Alcoa's seven Smelting Plants during 1958, according to notification received by Works Manager R. R. Sugg, left, this week. Posting the official bulletin here is Safety director Walter Martin while a member of the Rockdale Works Safety Committee. Don Edmonds, looks on. Alcoa's other Texas smelter at Point Comfort won second place.

Cameron's Business - Industrial Review

Story Of Cameron Business Leadership

Mack's Oil Co. At Temporary Retail Location

Mack's Oil Company has moved its retail outlet to a temporary location at Second and Fannin streets in downtown Cameron while highway 77 is being enlarged and re-surfaced.

A. W. McCullin, Mack's Oil Company owner assures his customers that the same fine service and products are available at the temporary location.

While highway work is progressing, McCullin is also making improvements at his service station location. He will resurface, adding a cement driveway, and plans modernization of his retail gasoline pump and service area.

In addition to the improvements now being made, company offices were recently remodeled as part of a continuing effort of keep facilities of Mack's Oil Company up to the latest in motorists requirements in an auto service center.

McCullin has two other retail outlets in Rockdale and Caldwell.

His Cameron station features Phillips Petroleum products including diesel fuel, motor oils and gasoline. He also sells Lee tires, the famous Gates belts, Purolator oil filters and Champion spark-plugs, all well-known brand items.

"You will find the complete service at Mack's 66 in Cameron," McCullin says. "And the same efficient, courteous Phillips 66 service awaits you at the Rockdale and Caldwell stations."

A versatile man in petroleum products and public service, McCullin also buys and sells crude oil in the Minerva field in Milam County. He began working the oil business in Minerva in 1931, moving to Cameron in 1939.

Milam To Feature Disney Film

Walt Disney's "White Wilderness" will be featured at the Milam Theatre in downtown Cameron January 29, 30, and 31. Disney has again captured a true-life adventure on film, taken at the top of the world.

The film promises mystery, awe-some sights and legendary animals.

Also to be featured at the Milam during the next week will be "The Key" January 22-23, "Friend Who Walked The West", Saturday January 24, "Barbarian and The Geisha" Sunday and Monday January 25 and 26, and "Paris Holiday" starring Bob Hope and Anita Ekberg January 27-28.

The Milam Theatre has completed installation of a new Sim-plex sound system for the enjoyment of Cameron theatre goers. The new system is rated better than the best high fidelity that money can buy according to Bill Peck, Theatre manager.

Peck adds the personnel and management of both the 77 and Milam Theatres strive to give our customers the utmost in movie entertainment for their money. Be sure to see one of these movies coming up, they will prove that movies are better than ever, and you will prove to yourself that Cameron's Milam Theatre is keeping up with the latest in theatre equipment for your enjoyment." The finest in refreshments and popcorn are also available to all movie-goers.

"If you want first rate movie entertainment," Peck points out, "you will find more first-run pictures than ever at the downtown Milam Theatre."

Peck is an 11-year-veteran with the two Cameron Theatres, owned by Cameron Theatres Inc. He became manager of the Cameron Theatres in July 1957, succeeding Dean White.

A native Cameronite and graduate of Yoe High School, he attended Sam Houston State Teachers College and Southwest State Teachers College, San Marcos.

ness". The animals, filmed at the top of the world, are sometimes savage, sometimes humorous, always exciting.

Texas Producers Saved

New Cotton Program Cited

Texas cotton producers saved an estimated $50,100,000 in labor costs by harvesting approximately 2,000,000 bales by mechanical means during 1958. Too, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist they saved another $14 million plus through the use of machines and chemicals for controlling grass and weeds in their cotton fields.

While these savings were being made, Elliott adds, they also set an all-time high of 387 pounds of lint an acre. The specialist credits the 7-step Cotton Program, initiated 13-years ago by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, as a major factor in the progress made by the producers of the State's most important crop.

The program, says Elliott, brought together on the county and state basis committees representing every segment of the cotton industry and all have worked to improve their industry. Since 1946 the average lint yield per harvested acre has been increased from 134 pounds to the 1958 record yield of 387 pounds.

Last year, county agents in 204 Texas counties assisted producers with various phases of the 7-step program. Elliott says that special emphasis was placed on the use of cotton burs for soil improvement and also to reduce gin fire hazards. Burs were spread, he says on 9,735 farms in 129 counties. A few years ago most of the burs were burned as waste.

Cotton followed phosphated legumes on 29,326 farms in 151 counties; barnyard manure was used on 7,685 farms in 151 counties to increase yields and defoliant or desiccants were used on 37,885 farms in 162 counties as an aid to mechanical harvesting.

In posting the $64 million plus savings in labor, cotton producers used 26,662 stripper harvesters and 1,831 spindle pickers in 133 and 78 counties respectively. The weed and grass control savings were made through the use of 44,496 rotary hoe equipped tractors in 157 counties and the use of spot treatment for Johnsongrass control in 148 counties. Lateral oiling with post emergence chemicals for weed control was used in 47 counties.

Elliott gives full credit to the 7-Step Cotton Committees and the county agricultural agents for their achievement record made under the program. The economy of the entire state has materially profited from the results of this cooperative effort, Elliott said.

County Agent Says

Moore Suggests Germination Tests

J. D. Moore
County Agent

Farmers should check their cottonseed for germination if they plan to plant their home grown seed this year.

Two reports have come to our attention, showing a very low test on samples sent to the State Department of Agriculture Testing Lab in Austin. One test showed that only 37 per cent of the seed would germinate. Another showed the percentage germination to be in the upper twenties. Both are too low for obtaining a stand.

If mechanical harvesting is anticipated, at least three to four cotton stalks per foot is desirable. Results of low germinating seed linked with the normal losses of seedling plants from soil borne diseases makes it imperative that seed should not only be good but should also be treated with a mercury base treatment.

SAMPLING SEED

Since most of our farm cottonseed are stored in bulk bins, the following method of sampling is adequate. Insert a long probe or thrust the hand into the bulk, as circumstances require, in at least seven uniformly distributed parts of the quantity being sampled. Take a handful of seed from each of the seven places and mix them together in a container. Place about one pound of the composite sample in a cloth bag made by sewing a strong piece of cloth material together. Send the sample along with an attached letter containing a fee of $1.00 to Texas Department of Agriculture, Seed Testing Division, Austin, Texas.

Last season approximately one third of our cotton had to be replanted for various reasons. As a result, we were about 20 days late in getting the crop started. Had this delay in the growing period not occurred, there is a possibility that much of the cotton fruiting could have taken place before the boll weevil population build-up resulted in terrific damage to the cotton crop.

Normally, not much more than 60 per cent of the seed planted ever emerge so you can easily see the results of low germinating seed.

DISEASES COST COTTON FARMERS $156 MILLION IN 1958 — Diseases took a $156 million bite out of the 1958 Texas cotton crop, report 15 cotton specialists located throughout the State.

"Cotton diseases kept at least 930,000 bales of cotton from being marketed," said Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, who compiled the information for the Cotton Disease Council.

Besides the $156 million cash lost to producers, there were losses of business to farm labor, railroads, compress companies, storage facilities and other phases of the industry. Diseases also were a major factor in grade reduction and a limiting factor in yield.

This loss occurred even though 1958 growing conditions were generally good as record yields were harvested in many areas.

Major diseases and estimated loss due to their effect on yield were bacterial blight, 7.31 per cent; root rot, 3.13 per cent; verticillium wilt, 3.06 per cent; seedling diseases, 3.0 per cent; and boll rots, 0.92 per cent. Other diseases causing losses were root knot nematodes, fusarium wilt and ascochyta blight.

These average figures don't give the true picture because in areas where diseases struck the hardest losses ran into ruinous figures. For example, root rot was estimated to have caused a 25 per cent loss in the Central Blackland area. Seedling diseases were especially damaging in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and in some North Texas areas. Bacterial blight caused damage throughout most of the state.

ELECTRICITY FOR 1969 ON DRAWING BOARD NOW

Time was when the spring and fall catalogues were "dog-eared" from use by the whole family... selecting and ordering merchandise needed for the coming season. Ordering and waiting was the accepted procedure for much of the buying.

Not so with the electric industry! A closer look reveals, for more than 46 years, those receiving their electric service from TP&L have never had to wait. Placing an order simply meant slipping a switch and your electricity was there instantly to serve you.

This instantaneous service, now taken for granted, is possible because TP&L is constantly planning to keep ahead of your needs for electricity. As your requirements have grown, TP&L has always anticipated your increasing needs. Construction plans for supplying your power needs five to ten years hence are on TP&L's drawing boards now. It takes three years of construction time to build a modern power plant... so you can see that plans must be developed years in advance, commitments made and contracts signed. This is the only way to be sure you'll have plenty of power... always.

TP&L is a product of our country's free enterprise system at work. Through advanced planning and efficient operation it has been able to keep your supply of electricity plentiful, and the price low. Since 1936 the unit price of residential electricity has gone down 43% while the cost of living has gone up 106%.

Fun For All With A Boat

By Vern Sanford

A fellow told us quite some time ago that the happiest day in his life was the day he bought a boat.

Then he added "... and the next happiest day was the day I sold it. Of course he said that in jest. But we later learned that he meant it.

However, that was back in the days when there were few boats as large as his and not a great deal of interest in water sports. Boat building itself did not get the wide attention then that it does now. And the motors—man they were clumsy looking things, heavy and noisy.

Today's boats are streamlined and as attractive as today's automobiles. Motors are quiet, easy to start, and smooth running. A great change has taken place, especially during the past few years. Frankly, our happiest Christmas ... ever ... was that December 25th, several years ago, when Santa slid a boat under our Christmas tree. Actually the jolly old fellow just left us a note to the effect that awaiting our pleasure at Billy Ditch's Marine Service was a brand new 18-foot, Whitehouse fiberglass run about and two 25 hp Buccaneer motors.

That rig made a beautiful job. It provided fun for the entire family, and boating, skiing and fishing pleasure for friends and business associates for months and months to come. All of us will remember that Christmas forever.

Fact of the matter, we were so happy that we printed "FREE BOAT RIDE" cards and distributed them wherever we went. Men and women were entitled to a 30 minute ride, children one hour, and grandchildren all day.

We had fun with that boat. Used it a lot in business entertainment too. When our kids married and left, we sold the boat with much regret ... and settled for one of Whitehouse's 14-foot fiberglass fishing boats. It has provided worlds of fun too. And food, ou know fishing is one hobby that allows you to "have fun and eat it too."

Last December Old Santa left us a 3 hp. outboard motor. The little 32 pound one cylinder Buccaneer is small enough for trolling and light enough to lift easily in and out of the water. We keep the motor in the trunk of our car, ready for a jaunt to the lake any time.

Nowadays when a fellow can rent a fishing boat for $1 or $2 a day on most Texas lakes, it is mighty nice to own a small, easy-to-carry motor that you can store in the car until that moment when you're ready to head for the happy fishing waters.

You'd be surprised to discover how many car trunks contain outboard motors nowadays. Also how many Texas automobiles are pulling boat trailers. Next time you're on the highway, look for the tell-tale hitch on the rear bumper of the cars that whiz by. The percentage will amaze you. Most hitches signify a boat owner.

And, by the way, have you noticed the trend to "marking" the best fishing spots?

First to come to our attention was the map prepared by Sid Wheeler, owner of the Redfish Resort Motel in Port Mansfield. Sid keeps a supply of mimeographed maps on hand for all who want them. The maps pinpoint the best fishing spots for 15 miles in three directions from Port Mansfield — north, south and east — the Laguna Madre area and beyond.

Some of the choice spots for reds and trout are within three and four miles of the hotel and can easily be found by any fisherman. Now the Highland Lake boys are becoming interested in a similar marking job. Marine dealers and top fishermen in the area have met and formulated a plan of identifying the choice spots on Lake Buchanan and the smaller lakes on the Colorado River.

Their program included floating, numbered bouys as markers. Maps of the area will be furnished free by the various concessionaires in the six-lake area.

SW Conference Sports

Tom Murray's Column

AN INFUSION of brilliant young coaching talent was required to return the Southwest Conference to major college football after the Salt-grass and cactus loop slipped in the early-to-middle 50's.

Bill Meek at SMU, Darrell Royal at Texas, Frank Broyles at Arkansas and Jim Myers, Texas Aggie boss, will join the veterans Abe Martin and Jess Nealey in producing one of the conference's great years this fall.

Playing talent runs deep at each school, and now there is genius available to extract maximum potential so the predominantly Texan loop will receive the national acclaim it deserves.

But this has always been good football country. What about basketball? That, my friend, is a good question. The Southwest Conference has a journey ahead before it can be recognized nationally.

A distasteful duty facing five conference members is the tying of a can to the basketball coach if this conference is to attain eminence newly-born Texas cafe fans are certain to demand. Texans, as has been mentioned here repeatedly do not cotton to second best.

Only three SWC institutions enjoy the luxury of a coach with ample ability to survive in tougher leagues. Mark it in your book: There will be a wholesale turnover in coaches pronto.

Probably the next new Southwest Conference basketball foreman will be Joe Turner, Kilgore Junior College's personable young brain, whose work brought him the "Junior College Coach of the Year" award.

This man's record is startling. So much so, you wonder why some conference school has not employed him sooner. In twelve seasons, he has produced 11 championships—seven straight at Cayuga High and four of five at Kilgore.

At Cayuga his teams won 237 games, lost 36, won four regional and two state crowns. His Kilgore Rangers have captured conference the past four winters and twice won a national junior college title. His record at the school also famous for the Rangerettes is 111 victories and 34 defeats.

Turner's handiwork is fresh in the cognizance of Southwest Conference fans. Kelly Duncan, All-Conference guard at SMU last year, and current Texas Aggie sensation Wilbur Cox were tutored by Turner at Kilgore.

JACK SWARTHOUT, Royal's assistant backfield coach whose talent scouting has produced several future longhorn starters from East Texas and the Port Neches-Beaumont, Orange area, was once the "Chuck Moser" of Washington state. A brilliant Swarthout record at Hokiern High, where his Grizzlies were perennial state champions prompted Royal to hire Jack when he moved to the University of Washington from Mississippi State.

Mike McMahon, Silabee's honorable-mention 3A all-state fullback, and several teammates will draw the college scouts ... Orange High School has its most publicized athlete in a decade in Second Team All-State Backfielder Wayne McClelland ... Coach Wilford Moore and his Port Neches-Beaumont attended the Cotton Bowl game en masse ... Liberty Vindicator Editor Tom Fatheree, in his column "From Near and Far Away", penned a stirring eulogy to Beaumont Sports Editor Tiny Scurlock. He ended it with: "Most people thought Tiny's enormous size was due to a diabetic condition. But surely he needed those 300-pounds-plus to house his big heart!" ... LaMarque, faring better than in football, won the consolation championship in the Rosenberg Lions' basketball tournament.

Randy Curson, Angleton's all-state quarterback, is favored to win the state interscholastic half-mile championship ... Brazosport' Jerry Spence was voted the outstanding player in the Howard County Junior College tournament. The Wharton Junior College star hit 24, 26, and 37 points in successive games ... TCU Coach Abe Martin credits Tidehaven's Carlos Vacek with a crucial pass-deflection that kept the Air Force from cracking that 0-0 Cotton Bowl deadlock.

Ben Krenek, El Campo's all-district footballer, is also a fair hand with the basketball ... John Janca is receiving congratulations for another outstanding job of directing the 12th annual Rosenberg Lions cage tournament, a project he originated ... Sam Houston State lost the Santa Claus Bowl at Natchitoches, La., but Red Pearce's youngsters were recipients of a letter from a hotel man, praising their conduct off the field.

Hearne, slowly rebuilding its football forces, produced two of the Southwest Conference's leading backs during the past decade—Billy Tidwell at A & M and Bobby Jones of Baylor ... When Cameron upset LaGrange, 62-49, John Josey sacked 22 points ... Lockhart Lion basketballers under Bob Roberts won six of their first nine games.

Former Cuero Gobbler Center Howard Jackson received a University of Texas football letter last week ... Bill Chesnutt, Kennedy Advance co-publisher, pulled a trick on friends by erecting a wooden deer on his acreage near the deer-hunting center. Several cronies, including a pair of highway patrolmen, stopped their autos and riddled the fake buck.

View On Sports

Herald Sports Editor

Coaches Jim Speer and Murphy Webster have introduced a new idea to athletes at Yoe High School this past week.

Speer is working on a program to build up a younger set of boys for future athletics. The school has received several sets of weight lifting equipment which should build up muscles for some of the boys running around the Yoe campus.

The schedule has the senior track boys working with the weights a day and then the next day the underclassmen.

Track coach Murphy Webster is in charge of the senior boys and Speer directs the younger group.

Bill Kruger, 23 year old basketball coach is in the middle of the rebuilding process at the school and hopes to put Cameron on the basketball midway in another couple of years.

The roundballers, who aren't having a bad year, could be having a sensational season if a basketball specialist like Kruger could have shown up a couple of years ago. Most basketball fans are quite enthusiastic about having a special coach for the indoor sport.

If the freshman and sophomores keep on developing under the guidance of Kruger, the Yoemen should have a team to brag about in another season or two.

VOS

From the appearance of things now the Yoemen are liable to be slightly lacking in backfield power next year if a few changes aren't made. One of the changes we hear from a reliable source, could be that of moving Ernest Bayer to the fullback slot.

The freshman tips the scales at 185 pounds and is still gaining. As far as Bayer's concerned, he's happy just where he is at tackle, but if Coach Speer chooses to run him in the backfield he will have two years of experience before his senior season.
